House Bill 200 Will Change Student Resident Status

Resident status of some students in Montana will be changed if House Bill 200 becomes law.

HB 200 has passed the House and remains in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Rep. John H. Leuthold, R-Carbondale, Stillwater, one of the bill sponsors said in a telephone interview the bill's purpose is to change and clarify parts of the existing law pertaining to the residence status of students.

HB 200 defines a Montana resident as one "domiciled in Montana for one year or more preceding registration at any unit of the Montana University System." A person cannot count university attendance toward residency time.

Mr. Leuthold said the bill would change the residence status of women who marry non-residents. Previously, a female resident of Montana would assume the residence of her husband and the bill would allow the female to keep Montana residency.

Mr. Leuthold said a second change pertains to residency of a minor whose parents or guardian move out of state. The residence of the minor now remains that of his parents or guardian when the latter moves and would allow the minor to retain Montana residence.

All's Well, Main Hall's Safe Is Safe

A break-in at Main Hall and an attempt to pry open the safe were reported to Missoula police yesterday, according to Richard Golden, police detective.

The break-in occurred between 11 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Saturday. It was discovered by a Main Hall employee, Mr. Golden said. The door to the business office was pried open, but nothing was missing from desks or machines, he said.

Robert L. Dundas, business office treasurer, said it is not known how admittance was gained because the building is locked daily at 5 p.m.

Mr. Golden said a rock was thrown through UM Pres. Robert Pantzer's office window. It is not known if the incidents were connected, he said. Investigation is continuing.

Repairs Too Costly

Ice Rink Issue Dies

The ice rink issue is dead, Tom Behan, ASUM president, said yesterday.

ASUM will take no more action on the rink because repairing it would cost too much. "It would cost $10,000 to $12,000 to make the current rink workable and $80,000 to $90,000 to make the rink into an official size hockey rink," he said. The current facility is one-half the official size.

An alternate plan to enclose, flood and freeze an area would be impractical even though it would cost only $2,000, Behan said.

High insurance costs, overrunning of the rink by youngsters, high maintenance costs and seepage of water before it freezes would make the rink an impossibility, Behan said.

Central Board sent a letter to Pres. Robert Pantzer asking him to delay action creating a ceramics facility until the issue could be discussed. Pres. Pantzer delayed action for at least a year, even though he had plans to create a $25,000 ceramics building where the old rink is, Behan said. Money to build the ceramics facility would have come from a general maintenance fund. The rink was first built through university and student money.

Students Favor Lower Voting, Drinking Age

The majority of Montana college students favor a lower voting and drinking age and oppose a sales tax, according to an opinion poll taken on the state's campuses last week. There were 3,700 students polled.

On the voting age issue, 2,553 favor lowering it and 1,275 oppose it; 1,826 favor voting at 18 years, 1,281 at 19, and 426 at 20.

On the drinking age issue, 2,644 favor lowering it, 1,137 oppose it; 1,324 are for drinking at 18 years, 980 for 19, and 357 for 20.

In favor of a sales tax in Montana were 1,060; 2,613 opposed it. Sending the sales tax question to the Montana voters in special election received 2,648 votes in favor and 589 opposed. A form of increased income tax earned 875 affirmative votes and 2,850 negative.

Little variation in voting was indicated from campus to campus, according to Tom Behan, ASUM president. Behan said the poll shows students believe they are able to accept the responsibilities of voting and drinking at an earlier age.

Twenty per cent of the 18,000 Montana college students were polled. The poll was sponsored by the Montana Student Presidents Association.

Math Mentors Receive Ten Scholarships

Ten high school mathematics teachers have received $3,000 scholarships from the Academic Year Institute in Mathematics to study at UM next year.

The program, supported by the National Science Foundation, provides full-time academic training to allow teachers to work on a master's degree.

Participants also receive an allowance of $450 for each dependent up to a maximum of $1,800, $75 for books and travel expenses of four cents a mile for two round trips to the participant's home.

Candidates must have a bachelor's degree and at least three years teaching experience in high school math.

Of the 365 applications, the final 10 were chosen on the basis of their undergraduate work.

The University has participated in the program for three years. The NSF has allotted $67,500 for next year's program, $47,500 for support of participants, and $20,000 for tuition and courses.

Members Recruit For Peace Corps

Four former Peace Corpsmen are recruiting at UM this week. Applications for corps membership are available at an information booth in the Lodge.

Bill Sakovich, former corpsman to Indonesia, said a language aptitude test will be given Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 12 noon and 4 p.m. in Territorial Room 3. Sakovich said the test is used for placement only and is non-competitive.

A film entitled "One Step at a Time" will be shown Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in Territorial Room 3. The movie shows volunteer work in Brazil.

Sakovich said recruiters are interested in seniors and graduate students who have completed a major, but sophomores and juniors are invited to apply.

Five Women Seek Garret, Kaimin Jobs

Applications for Garret editor and Kaimin assistant business manager will be considered by Publications Board today.

No applications were received for the Kaimin photographer's position.

Applicants for Garret editor are Theresa MacMillan, junior in journalism; Sharon Brogan, freshman in English, and Purr Orr, sophomore English major. Selection of the Garret editor was tabled at last week's meeting.

Betsy Scanlin and Barbara Richey, both sophomores in journalism, are applicants for the Kaimin assistant business manager's position.

Applicants for all positions are asked to attend the meeting at 4 p.m. in the Activities Room.

Coed Selected National Finalist In Home Economics Contest

Audrey Koehler, a senior home economics major, was selected as one of five national finalists in the 1967 Pillsbury Award competition.

Miss Koehler will receive $150 from the Pillsbury Co. and will compete in Minneapolis March 6-7 for the national award of $500 and a year on-the-job training with the Pillsbury Co., according to from nationwide applications. Selection was based on a test and faculty recommendations.

Selection of the winner, who must be a home economics senior, is based on high scholastic achievement, range of interests and leadership.

Miss Koehler is a member of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary; Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary; and Kappa Omicron Phi, home economics honorary. She has been president of the campus home economics club and secretary of Kappa Omicron Phi. She was a member of Spurs, Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, and served as a junior sponsor.

Miss Koehler will graduate this spring. She is student teaching in Columbia Falls this quarter.

'Pied Piper' Cast Brings Hamelin To Montanans

Montana Masquers' children's theater production, "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," is touring Montana towns.

The play was presented twice in Hamilton last weekend. Other performances are planned this weekend in Butte, March 3 in Chester and March 11 in Kalispell. Cast members double as crew for the touring show.

Dorm Readied For Students, Building Sound

Jesse Hall became a center of activity yesterday as finishing contractors moved beds into the dormitory.

The building is about ready for occupancy.

UM personnel started cleaning operations on the eleventh floor several days ago. Crews from Northwest Interiors hung draperies in all rooms.

John H. Buck, finishing contractor, said he expects to have all furniture in the building this week.

Delay in completing the building brought rumors last week that floors in the building were not level.

A telephone conversation with Philip H. Hauck, state architect, confirmed a report that the building is structurally sound.

Damages are being assessed against contractors for each day acceptance of the building is delayed.

What a Difference A Machine Made

First the library had vending machines. Then a copy machine appeared. Now, in answer to "no change" problems created by the first two innovations, a change machine has been installed on second floor.

Mrs. Suzanne Ward, reference librarian, said the machine will change two nickels to a dime or quarters and fifty-cent pieces to smaller coins.

Dean of Library Services Earle C. Thompson said the machine "should help students pay fines and receive change to use the downstairs vending machines."

CIA Made Big 'Mistake'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A member of President Johnson's top-level team investigating links between student groups and government agencies said yesterday it was a mistake for the CIA to "entangle itself" in this area.

But at the same time, Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner said he had "little respect for critics who give themselves airs of moral superiority in attacking an activity they know to be necessary."

Sam Kitzenberg Finds Need for Sales Tax

To the Kaimin:

Me thinks, after seeing the CB Task Force Report on "Football Tax Study, Part One" (which incidentally cost you, the student, less than $100 to compile), and after studying the committee reports in which all sides had three minutes to present their arguments; WE NEED A SALES TAX AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA, AND I DON'T CARE WHAT THE REGENTS OR COUNCIL OF PRESIDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM THINK! I suggest a tax on cigarettes and beer.

After Referendum 64, some of you are probably thinking—if you smoke—that you are being taxed twice. However, according to our studies, the slope of the demand curve, the law of diminishing marginal utility, and the present surplus; you are not.

What worked me up was a speech by an economics professor of MSU (who is just the complete opposite of his colleague, Don Quixote) given at our Friday afternoon Flower Arrangement Club at Vida (Montana). Afterwards, we continued our discussion over a cup of "Slurpo Burpo."

Next comes the question of need. You all know, it takes money to make a winning football team. Also, you may not have heard, but the president of ASUM who advocates this tax was once a taxi driver; and what is even worse, a pressure group (The Spurs), wrote the speech he gave in favor of it. Besides that, they have it down at MSU! Another think to consider is a poll taken by our Wing Chairman, Happy Harry (who still isn't sure where our dorms fees go), of the Missoula County Kindergarten, who found that: 2 favored the Sales Tax, 200 opposed it, 201 didn't understand it and 400 didn't participate because they were too busy breaking their toys: cars, dolls and bottles. There was little variation in other kindergartens polled.

I have put my feelings to song:
UP, UP WITH FOOTBALL,
MISSOULA WON'T BE BEAT,
WITH A SALES TAX,

OR A STUDENT FEE INCREASE,
WE'LL GET A REAL TREAT!

Sophomore, CB Delegate

P.S. It was so close to election time, I had to say something about the sales tax. So endeth the testimony of another expert.

Kaimin Reporter Misquotes Instructor

To the Kaimin:

Re. Feb. 17 Kaimin story on Peace Vigils. The girl reporter I talked to last Thursday was very nice and I don't want to hurt her, but I keep forgetting that it is not only people over thirty who are not to be trusted but also a few others, namely Kaimin reporters.

I am quoted in the article as believing that "silent vigils . . . accomplish something different than a riot would," and as saying that "riots are forgotten after they are over, but we plan to continue silent vigils as long as the war lasts."

I never used the word riot when referring to student activities because I know from the experience on this campus last year how easily innocent snowball fights become "Santo Domingo type revolutions" in people's imaginations. This is especially the case when I am referring to nonviolent peace marches.

I told the girl it appeared, after last fall's peace march, that such marches have a tendency in this locale to provoke people into violence and while such violence may be instructive about people's intolerance, that violence generally is not productive of anything. Further, I said that peace vigils don't appear to provoke violence, and therefore they have some advantages over peace marches as ways of ending this terrible war.

I am very grateful that the girl was able to listen to me; I only wish she could have heard me.

Registration Improvements Suggested

To the Kaimin:

After pre-registration last Monday, I feel that improvements are in order. The entire facilities are too crowded, and therefore should be moved to a larger, single-floor building. This would end the cramped lines and the packing of people onto the stairs.

I am in favor of a system that would keep people in line and end the cheating that goes on when too many people are allowed to jump the line. Yesterday, the line wound all over the first floor. As a result, many people were able to go from the end of the line to the front of the line just by taking one step in the wrong direction. After this had happened a few times, there was a mad rush for the stairs. It was extremely hard for people to go down once they had reached the second floor.

In a University such as this one, there is no excuse for such poor mismanagement. It would be greatly appreciated by the student body if some steps would be taken in the future.

Dave Rorvik Praises Columnist Foote

To the Kaimin:

My congratulations to Rick Foote (Sean O'Rourke unmasked). His column has been a superb asset for the Kaimin this past quarter. Provocative, incisive and—in spite of the brogue which normally palls even in the hands of good writers—remarkably well written.

To the Kaimin:

I wish to thank the Associated Student, University of Montana Program Council, for presenting Sir John Barbirolli and the Houston Symphony Orchestra last Friday evening. The performance was truly magnificent. May we dare hope for more of like caliber?

Reporter Defends Kaimin Story Quote

To the Kaimin:

Dr. John H. Wicks, Associate Professor of Economics, was not misquoted as he has alleged.

A paper he wrote for the Kaimin reporter makes no distinction between administrative and compliance costs of the proposed Montana sales tax.

His paper on file in the Kaimin office states, as did the story, "the adoption of a sales tax would create new administrative and compliance costs amounting to about 8 per cent of sales tax collections."

'It Is Happening' In Terr. Room 3

To the Kaimin:

Once upon a time, many years ago, there was a University then called M.S.U. It "was happening, baby." The place to go for culture in any stretch of the imagination. I remember it well from my high school days thinking some day I would be part of "what's happening, baby."

Some four years later that dream had a chance to become reality. Arriving as still a freshman at the start of spring quarter '66, I was filled with high hopes and expectations of things to come. At first I thought the smog was hiding all the happenings. So I became an immediate member of the smogsters. No doubt you have been startled by one of these humanoid forms with bloodshot watery eyes appearing almost out of nowhere and I do mean our campus has become a nowhere.

If you do not believe me just ask all the students one sees on the highways leading away from Missoula on any Friday. Has the now U. of M. lost all its culture forever? Almost. The foresters are still hanging on with their happenings, but that can't last us all year. The drama department still has a foothold. The music department is strong but isolated, the art department is trying. The Kaimin is going strong four days a week driving a small wedge into the boredom. If you are interested in making that wedge bigger, be in Territorial Room number three tonight. HELP raise YOUR campus out of the depths of boredom, and halt the extinction of collegiate life.

Whitworth Stops Grizzlies 69-64

The Whitworth College Pirates defeated Ron Nord's Grizzlies 69-64 in basketball action last night in Adams Field House.

Whitworth's man-to-man defense and quick passing offense drew 25 Grizzly fouls. Whitworth collected 13 fouls.

The Grizzlies were down 35 to 28 at halftime. During second half play, Sid Hudson started a Grizzly rally with a layin and a free shot. Don Parsons kept the rally alive with a short shot making the score 60-63, but the effort died in the final minutes.

Parsons and Rod McDonald each garnered 20 points for high point men on each team.

In weekend basketball action, the Grizzlies dropped one conference game to Gonzaga 102-60 Friday night in Spokane and another to the University of Idaho Vandals 86-85 Saturday night in Moscow, Idaho.

Gonzaga's Bulldogs used a full-court press to stifle the Grizzly offense and a fast break to shake UM's defense.

The Bulldogs left the floor at halftime leading 45-30 and came back in the second half to outscore the Bruins 57-30.

Gary Lechman led game scoring with 23 points, 11 for 11 from the charity line.

Dennis Biletnikoff was Montana's leader with 14 points. Lee Levknecht had 11 and Greg Hanson scored 8.

At Moscow, Idaho's Rick Day tipped in Dave Schottbauer's last shot just as the gun went off for Idaho's 86-85 win.

At halftime, the 2,800 Idaho fans saw Montana down 50-38. The Vandals blew the haltime lead with cold shooting, several turnovers, Biletnikoff's jump shots and Parsons' pivot shots.

With the Grizzlies in the lead 85-80 and 20 seconds left in the ball game, Rod Bohman drove in for a layin and two points and Mike Wicks, Vandal guard, stole the ball and went in for a layin.

With 12 seconds left, Idaho took two time-outs and jockeyed the ball for halfcourt position on an out-of-bounds play. Dave Schlottbauer shot the ball with three seconds remaining and with the ball hanging on the basket rim, Day went up for the winning tip-in.

Biletnikoff was high scorer with 25 points followed by Parsons with 21.

Doc Holliday's freshmen Cubs scored a win over Gonzaga Friday 74-72 but lost to the Idaho frosh 81-71 on Saturday.

Grizzly Swimmers Win Two Of Three Weekend Contests

The UM swimmers defeated the University of Idaho Vandals 67-27 Friday and split a dual meet in Cheney, Wash., Saturday.

Fred Stetson's swim team beat Eastern Washington College 63-40 but lost a close one to the Evergreen champions, Central Washington 53-51.

First place Grizzly winners were:

Women to Form Swimming Team

All women interested in competitive swimming or water ballet must attend an organization meeting tonight at 7 in the Men's Gym pool, adviser Deanna Sheriff said.

UM has had a challenge from Montana State University to a swim meet, she said. Also if enough women are interested in water ballet, a water show will be scheduled for spring quarter.

She said Connie Bacon would work with the competitive swimmers. If enough interest is shown in competitive swimming, Mrs. Sheriff said, UM will invite Washington State University, Gonzaga, Whitworth, University of Washington and MSU.

M Club to Meet

All lettermen are urged to attend a special M Club meeting this evening at 7:30 in the Century Club Room.

The new Athletic Director, Jack Swarouth, coaches from all sports and Grizzly trainer Naseby Rhineheart will be there to meet the athletes.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Relatives of at least 51 members of Congress are on the congressional payroll or were at some time in 1966. Salaries paid these relative-employees in 1966 exceeded $385,000, an Associated Press survey disclosed yesterday.

An office-by-office check and an examination of official records showed 42 congressmen have relatives working either on Capitol Hill or in district offices back home.

In addition to these 42 members, nine other congressmen had relatives whose salaries were paid by the taxpayers at some time last year.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—An underground coal-mine fire which has been burning for 35 years at Jharia in eastern India has been brought under control.

The government estimates the fire destroyed 7.5 million tons of coal through the years, while 700,000 tons of sand and water were used in fighting the fire.

GENEVA (AP)—World disarmament leaders meet here today with hopes that in the next six months they will be able to hammer out a treaty to bar the spread of nuclear weapons.

Optimistic predictions that it could be completed in the spring or even presented at the opening session, have been dampened. Now, many delegates will be happy if the drafting can be finished by the end of September, when the U.N. General Assembly meets again.

All 17 nations participating in the U.N. disarmament conference are expected to be represented at today's session in the Palais des Nations.

Man-on-the-spot®...in every branch of business.

Last year, he was still in college. Now he's on his way as a Management Trainee with the world's largest bank in California.

Bank of America is not only statewide—it's worldwide, too. So there's a continuing need for career minded young men with ambition and executive potential to help in the development of new markets and new banking services both in California and throughout the world.

No matter what your major field of study, there is an opportunity for you at Bank of America. Special opportunities are available for MBA graduates and others with advanced degrees. If international relations or international finance is your specialty, we have a place for you in International Banking. If you've studied business administration, you'll be interested in Loan Administration. And our Computer Operations offers a challenge to any mathematician. All training is accomplished primarily through project assignments.

As the world's largest bank, we serve every aspect of business and industry in the largest and fastest growing state. And we have a place for you.

For more information write to College Relations Officer, Bank of America, One South Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, California 94102.
